17 Light diffracts when it enters a telescope. This causes the image to blur slightly. The amount of diffraction depends on the diameter of the hole through which the light enters the telescope and the wavelength of the light.

Which combination for diameter and wavelength will result in the sharpest image (least blurring)?

	diameter	wavelength
A	large	long
B	large	short
C	small	long
D	small	short