9 A piece of solid metal melts to become a liquid.

How do the particles of metal or their behaviour change?

A They increase in size.

B They move around each other.

C They move much further apart.

D They vibrate more about their fixed positions.