14 Which statement describes what happens as ice at 0 °C melts to become water?

A Energy is absorbed and the temperature remains constant.

B Energy is absorbed and the temperature rises.

C Energy is released and the temperature remains constant.

D Energy is released and the temperature rises.