23 What is a compression?

A a point in a longitudinal wave where the particles of the medium are close together

B a point in a longitudinal wave where the particles of the medium are far apart

C a point in a transverse wave where the particles of the medium are close together

D a point in a transverse wave where the particles of the medium are far apart