32 What is the purpose of the split-ring commutator in an electric motor?

A to ensure that the magnetic field in the motor changes direction every half rotation

B to ensure that the magnetic field in the motor stays in the same direction at all times

C to ensure that the turning effect on the motor changes direction every half rotation

D to ensure that the turning effect on the motor stays in the same direction at all times