14 A pure substance is heated slowly. The temperature of the substance is measured as it starts to melt and when it finishes melting.

Which statement is correct?

A The temperature decreases slightly as the substance melts.

B The temperature fluctuates as the substance melts.

C The temperature increases as the substance melts.

D The temperature stays the same as the substance melts.