24 Two coherent progressive waves from different sources meet at a point.

Which condition must be satisfied for there to be zero resultant amplitude at the point where the waves meet?

A The two waves must be emitted from their sources with the same intensity.

B The two waves must be in phase with each other at the point.

C The two waves must be travelling in opposite directions.

D The two waves must have the same amplitude at the point.