18 Objects with different masses are placed on the horizontal surface of a table. The objects are then raised to different heights above the table. The gain in gravitational potential energy of each object is the same.

Which graph best shows the variation of the height h of the objects above the table with their mass m?

A

B

C

D

