28 Coherent light of constant wavelength is incident normally on a double slit. Interference fringes are formed on a screen that is a fixed distance from the double slit. The screen is parallel to the double slit.

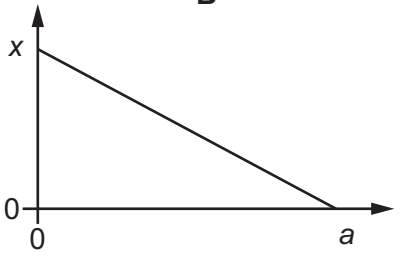

The separation of the slits is varied.

Which graph best shows the variation with slit separation a of the spacing x of the interference fringes?

A

B

C

D

