

30 Two progressive sound waves move in opposite directions and superpose to form a stationary wave.

Which statement describes an antinode of this stationary wave?

- A a position where the phase difference between the two waves is always 0°
- B a position where the phase difference between the two waves is always 180°
- C a position where the stationary wave has maximum amplitude
- D a position where the stationary wave has minimum amplitude