39 Which statement about the radioactive decay of a substance is correct?

A It cannot be predicted when a particular nucleus will decay.

B Placing a radioactive substance inside a lead-lined box prevents it from decaying.

C The decay always produces poisonous gases.

D The rate of decay increases if the substance is dissolved in water.